Football Schedule Near End, Basketball Begins

Here's a "capsule" view of Northwestern sports.

As the COLUMNS goes to the printer, Northwestern prepares for final Gulf States Conference games against McNeese, Southwestern, and Southeastern with a record of three wins and four losses. The final two games are to be played on the road.

Coach Huey W. Cranford's basketball team begins action here against Southeastern Oklahoma, November 25 and 26 with hopes of posting a better record in 1963-64. Hopes hinge on the play of several returning lettermen plus a trio of top newcomers.

In cross-country, defending champion Northwestern has won over Louisiana Tech and McNeese, while losing to Northeast and finishing third in a triangular race with Northeast and Tech.

The baseball team has been working out for some time in fall, preseason drills.

Merry Christmas

Baton Rouge Alumni Members Hosts For LTA Coffee Guests

The Baton Rouge chapter of the Northwestern State College Alumni Association served coffee and refreshments Tuesday, Nov. 26 at the Louisiana Teachers Association Convention from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Istrouma High School.

The serving table was covered with a white and purple cloth, centered with an arrangement of white pyramid gladioli intermingled with purple ribbons. Mrs. Robert Wagner presided and poured coffee from the silver coffee service. Many alumni and friends of Northwestern gathered to reminisce.

Mrs. Wiley Dial (Marjorie Hager) and Mrs. Gordon Peek (Louise Ford) served as co-chairmen of the committee, ably assisted by Mrs. J. A. Rockhold, Mrs. Clinton Dobson, Mrs. Richard Clanton, Mrs. Steve Carnegie (Maude Dabney), Mrs. John McCain (Myrtle Youngblood), Mrs. William Dodd (Verone Ford), Mrs. Gaynell Tinsley (Ann Tarver), Miss Jo Nettles, and Mrs. Robert Wagner (Eleanor McCoy).

Where Are They?

George Ellis Antie, Mrs. Will A. Elliott, Melba Marie Law, Mrs. Vernis Davis Simms, Mrs. Estelle R. Hays, Luther Alonzo Bodie, Mrs. Zelma Fox Cates, Lois Bonds, Mrs. Edna Connell Hamiter, Doris Ford, Mary V. Alford, Betty Helene Kilgore, Nell B. Roberts, Viola Marie McMillan, Doris Ford, Edith Slayden, Mrs. Jo Ann Faith Barham, Mrs. Helen Faye Busbice Patterson, Mrs. Willie Dee Rush Rawlins, Mrs. Maxwynne Moore Duvall, Mrs. Helen Constance Show Lamborn, and Mrs. Nevvah Jean Simmons Durham.

Anyone knowing the addresses of the above persons should provide this information to the Alumni Office.

CHARLES TOLAR, left, and CHARLES HENNIGAN, right, assisted in the arrangements for the organization of a new chapter of the Alumni Association in Houston, Tex., Thursday evening, Dec. 5. The two NSC graduates, now professional football players with the Houston Oilers, contacted Houston area alumni and former students to encourage their participation in the meeting.

Organize Chapter Of NSC Alumni In Houston, Tex.

One of the most enthusiastic groups of Northwestern alumni and former students ever assembled met in Houston Thursday, Dec. 5, for the organization of a new chapter. One hundred and forty-six persons were in attendance.

Charles Hennigan and Charles Tolar, and their wives, directed the arrangements for the meeting and the coffee and buffet supper which preceded it. It was a well planned and highly successful event, thoroughly enjoyed by all participants.

President John S. Kyser described the changes in recent years at Northwestern. He said:

"It is symbolic of the growth and development of our College that we are here in Houston tonight. The eighty-year history of NSC has indeed made it more than just an institution that serves Louisiana. Not many of us would have reason to know that more than 250 of our alumni live in this Houston area. It is a happy thought that the influence of NSC is so significant in this dynamic part of the nation.

"When we on the Old Hill realize that our graduates hold important positions in the surging business life of the Houston area, we are indeed aware that our College has long afforded education and training for spheres of living that are beyond its time-honored specialty of teaching. We will continue to work for eminent achievements in all aspects of higher education, and we want your suggestions and help.

"In this dynamic age, all of us wonder what may be in store for us in the years ahead. In regard to our grand old College, I say that if our graduates of the remaining sixties, the seventies and beyond display the kind of loyalty that you bring us tonight, there can be no doubt of the ability to meet and overcome any difficulties that we may encounter."

More Demon Grid Stars Join Pros

Three senior Northwestern football players are expected to join the growing ranks of Demons in professional football.

Center Sammy Joe Odom, end Johnny Ray Norman, and half-back Jerry Burton are expected to sign pro contracts and will attempt to play in 1964. Odom was expected to sign with the Cleveland Browns or Houston Oilers and Burton with Los Angeles Rams or Houston. Norman has already signed with the Dallas Cowboys.

Odom, an outstanding center and linebacker, was the seventh

Demon Cagers Open 1963-1964 Season

Northwestern's basketball team opened its Gulf States Conference schedule Thursday, Dec. 12, against McNeese State, defending champions, here. In three earlier games the Demons lost to Southeastern Oklahoma twice and to Stephen F. Austin.

Coach Huey W. Cranford has nine returning lettermen, including five seniors. Three newcomers joined the squad this fall. They are freshmen David Clark of Natchitoches and Jerry McLaurin of Baton Rouge and junior college transfer Virgil Bray of Pocasset, Okla.

Early season problems included the need for developing a stronger defense. It was obvious that a successful season would be dependent on improving this phase of the squad's play.

The team will play in a holiday tournament, the Gulf States Conference tourney, at Ruston along with GSC members Louisiana Tech, Southwestern, and Northeast, Dec. 27 and 28.

Christmas Message of NSC Foundation Head, C. O. Holland

As Christmas time approaches, I would like to direct your attention to our Northwestern State College Foundation, formed for the purpose of receiving gifts which will be invested, and the income will be used in helping needy and deserving students in the College. When we attain sufficient size, we hope that the Foundation will be able to make grants to the College or members of the staff for research and study.

I can think of no finer way in which a lot of people, making modest contributions can do so much to help worthy young men and women to secure an education. You might not feel able to give enough to send a student through college, but your gift, added to many others, will produce an income that can be spent in no more useful ways.

If you have, or have not made a contribution to the Foundation, why not send a check, regardless of its size? It will be greatly appreciated. And remember that these gifts to the Foundation are tax-deductible items on income.

Sincerely yours,
C. O. Holland, President,
N.S.C. Foundation

'28 Grad, Now With Columbia Pictures, Visits on Campus

A music coordinator for Columbia Pictures for 23 years, Ross DiMaggio, former Natchitoches resident and Music-English graduate, 1928, returned for a visit to his family and the campus recently.

DiMaggio visited with Mrs. John S. Kyser at the President's Cottage and reminisced briefly on his student days, and primarily about the old wooden music department structure where he learned to play the violin.

His duties at Columbia include conducting, writing and arranging music, researching musical tomes and public domain material and, generally, working in the arrangement of background music for films and television productions.

DiMaggio indicated his work on the film "Song Without End," the story of Franz Liszt, was of primary interest.

His wife, Eda Edson, is a dramatic consultant, story analyst, writer, and columnist.

Master's Degree in Business Administration. Captain Enloe graduated from Louisiana State University in which to complete the program.

He is married to the former Betty Wilson, B.S., 1956, and they have two children, a son, Jamey 4½ and a daughter, Betty 2½. They reside at 440 East State Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

P. E. Wilson, BA '21, of Fort Worth, Texas, and Miss Maud Anderson, 2-yr. '26, and BA '43, passed away this year. Sympathy is extended to the families of these alumni.

WILLIAM DODD

William J. (Bill) Dodd, B.A. 1934, won the recent State race for the office of Superintendent of Education with a substantial margin over five other candidates.

Dodd, presently President of the State Board of Education, was a student leader at NSC and served as editor of the CURRENT

SAUCE and the POTPOURRI, student publications.

He recently visited the campus, during the campaign, and spoke to members of the CURRENT SAUCE staff. Numerous fellow alumni, friends, and faculty members attended a Natchitoches reception for Dodd held recently.
